cSpan - Thanks for the expanded airing of African President Jerry Rawlings state visit and reception by President Clinton. I thought that President Rawlings presented a compelling argument to induce America to get more involved in the African continent's efforts to fulfill its promise.

As an American offspring of Africa, I was pleased by his conduct and demeanor and the respectful and warm reception given by President Clinton. I'm sure President Clinton's enemies were no doubt put out by his obvious manifest fondness and ease around black people shown as he greeted people for the dinner.
