

Dear C Span

I had so much respect for you. I counted on you to be the bell ringer for even handed news & reporting. That's why I couldn't believe my eyes when I saw you advertising "Road to the White House" in President Clinton's first year in office. How can you? is there no where this beleaguered man can find a chance. I've been touting you to my friends & family and my co-workers. How can you betray our trust like this. The American people deserve better from you.

Your standards seemed so high, your format seemed so clean & understandable. What were you thinking of. Please give America a chance. Give Mr Clinton a chance
