Dear Sir & Madam:

I am speaking for a whole group of people:

Please have your callers instructed to forego:

- inquiries about the host's health
- introducing their speak with qualifications: I have 2 questions & 1 comment over

Our time is precious & we 'hate' to waste it. And your aim is, also, to get as many questions & answers as possible.

Of course, we cannot expect you to curtail the compliments.

But we could also do without the mention "I am a first time caller". Why should we care? Where is the relevance

Thank you for your attention
