Gentlemen:

(Please direct this to proper department.)

When I turn on my TV its often to the C-SPAN channel, but during your coverage of the U.S. House of Reps. Sessions I find it somewhat disgusting that when a vote is being taken, (by "Electronic Device"), that there is no way to know, for sure, what the vote is about.

Tabulations are usually captioned like; "On agreeing to conference report," (?), "on Passage," (?), "on agreeing to amendment," (?), etc., etc.

Next sessions, why couldn't you add some 'running' explanations at bottom of TV screen so one can know what the vote is about?

Thank you,

P.S.:

It appears that your Call-in show moderators are too quick to end a call that tends to be adverse to their opinions.

(It seems that if they "can't take the heat" - "leave the kitchen.")
