Am wondering why
you never (at least
during my viewing times)
have the 'average'

'Jane or John' on your program who really
work for a living and can only spend what they earn with no perks.

I'm a retired small business owner - would never hire anyone again - decks stacked against employers (smaller ones)
thanks [REDACTED]
