Dear C-SPAN,

Over the last few months I have noted that during your coverage of Prime Minister's Question Time from the British Houses of Parliament, C-SPAN has stopped including the name of the questioner's constituency in the caption information.

In a country like Great Britain where regional loyalties are very closely connected to political party affiliations, it is essential to know the area of the country which MPs represent.

I urge you to reinstate the inclusion of this information.

Sincerely,

CC Brian
