

November 18 1996.

Dear Mr. Lamb,

I am writing to you to make a comment on C-SPAN. It is very educational - I do not watch it all the time - just some of the time. One question given to Representative elect Jim Gibbons (R-Nevada) was "Will the freshman in the House this year as well as Speaker Newt Gingrich be as confrontational this time as in the last Congress?"

Representative elect Gibbons said "No - to the best of my knowledge the last Congress did NOT seem confrontational." Other than the Newt Gingrich led governmental shutdowns the 1995-96 Congress was NOT confrontational at ALL capital letters underlined word.

This interview was filmed and aired on Saturday into 5:50 PM EST on O.Cong November 13 1996 on C-SPAN1.

Mr. Lamb I like and admire you & the network - the GOP led ~~95th~~ 1995-96 Congress can and should be credited with massive welfare reform that passed both sides of Congress and signed last summer by President Clinton's landmark bill. The questioner neglected the information when he asked Rep elect Gibbons and the remark said by you & he answered to the best of his ability.

Please continue to have a good cable network C-SPAN1 and C-SPAN2. Sincerely,

P.S. I still remember the events still fresh. D.S.
