

12/6/00

[REDACTED]
Springfield, Massachusetts 01108

Dear Mr. Lamb,

I am taking the liberty of writing to you as a long time listener and fan. It is always a pleasant surprise to hear you put the minimum of yourself into each interview and give maximum time to the interviewee. So many radio and T.V. personalities project themselves instead of their guests. I am sure you are not old enough to remember the hostess of a one hour interview program on radio. I used to admire Mary Margaret McBride, because like you, she had the ability to let her guests shine.

I am taking the liberty ^{also} of recommending a book whose author D. David Kranzler held us spellbound when he lectured for two hours to a senior group at our Community Center. We heard no coughs, no throat clearings or visits to facilities, our speaker held us really spellbound. His ninth book "The Man Who Stopped the Trains to Auschwitz" is his ninth book on Holocaust history. This book is different, because he sheds light on a true hero of that tragic era. Our generations are not blessed with too many heroes.

2.

At publication Dr. Krauzler was honored at the Jewish Museum of Yeshiva University in New York, together with nine ambassadors of countries that aided in the rescue of Jews during the destruction of Hungarian Jews. I know he will be a fascinating guest.

Thank you for your enlightening and entertaining program.

Sincerely
[REDACTED]

THE AUTHOR

DR. DAVID KRAUZLER
[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]
BROOKLYN NY 11230

PHONE: [REDACTED]

THE BOOK: "THE MAN WHO STOPPED THE TRAINS TO AUSCHWITZ"

PUBLISHED: SYRACUSE U. PRESS