

Botanical Name: Chrysalidocarpus lutescens

Common Name: Areca Palm; Yellow Butterfly Palm

Native Origin: Madagascar

Light Requirement: Diffused sunlight (1000-3000 fc)

Temp. Requirement: 62° to 80° F

Watering: Keep evenly moist but not constantly wet

Bloom: Violet-black fruit

Propagation: Seed

Uses & Notes: Container grown decorator palm; keep saucer of water under plant, very popular palm

1-22-98

Dear Brian, O.WJ

Partisan use of the noun "Democrat" by Susan, Lou, et al. is offensive, to be sure.

But intellectual dishonesty goes far beyond offensive:

This morning Steve used a caller's question that had pro-Clinton nuances, to awkwardly segue to the F.X. Clines article about Hellary. The fact that he chose the most unflattering sentence - which in itself misstated her position - then failed to read the only other sentence in that paragraph, one that refers to her strength, leads to the accusation I make about G.S.'s intellectual integrity.

Fortunately I had occasion to read the Times today -- otherwise I would have formed an erroneous opinion about the reporter - although he gets no points for accusing Mrs. Clinton of revisionism. A "one-dimensional spouse"? Even Tammy Wynette defies that description,

as do most women.

But is there any hope for this unprofessional display of bias?

DESIGN
GREETINGS, INC.
P.O. BOX 405
BEL AIR, MARYLAND 21014

Sincerely,
[Redacted]

cut along line for plant care information

Chrysalidocarpus Lutescens