Dear C-Span

In your May 6 issue you listed 'Booknotes' year's anniversary. I was very pleased to see this.

I Read The hist from April 2, 1989 - May 6, 1990 and I didn't see an author that I have been trying to remember.

I wanted to write you when I lost his name and title of the book, but I did not have a reference point. So, when I saw this hist I just knew he would be there.

I saw him on C-span last fall (between Sept and Jan.) An Afro-American. I would remember the title if I saw it in print again.

I don't know how or which books you chose because I didn't see "A bright Shining Lie" among your year's list either.

Will you please print another list or add his name (Afro-American) in the C-span update of which I am a subscriber.

Thank you,
