

Just listened to your And panel including Glassman, Branson and Pincus. Thought topics of discussion not worth the time. You say the Callers pick the topics but not really, you do.
You read little tidbits of gossip (how earth shaking is the so called banking scandal in Congress compared to BCCI?) If a Caller brings up something of real interest such as the BCCI - or October Surprise - The use of women for lead story or lack of same - your panels always claim lack of knowledge Maybe I expect to much but when I hear my Donzelus in the Will of the Congress speaking on the real trouble in the money system and how it has been abused - that the U.S. government is in danger - real danger - of going over the cliff (and he doesn't lie) I don't understand your choice of subjects - Your callers only follow your lead - I do try to call; I can never get through -

P.S. Maybe we flatter ourselves - maybe we are dumb because we listen!
