Gentlepersons:

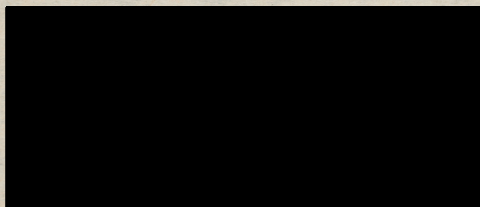

Our monopoly cable company has only recently seen fit to include your programs in their basic service.

Needless to say, it has been a boon to those of us who subscribe to only the local newspaper.

A couple of my favorite programs are BOOKNOTES (as well as anything else that Brian (?) does), and the House of Commons.

Most importantly to me, however, is the quality of the music you play during the votes in the Congress. After all the junk one hears on TV it is a blessing to have those lovely interludes.

Thankfully,
