re; Universal Health Care in the US

Mr. Lamb;

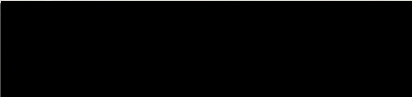

Certain citizens of the US have had the dubious privilege of belonging to a government managed health care system, complete with plastic card.

Theses people are called veterans and they are "cared for" under the auspices of the Veterans Administration.

May I suggest that you bring this subject to light on one of your call-ins. Specifically request veterans to call in and solicit their opinions regarding their health care. Be aware that health care is only half the subject - the other is the actual administration of the system and it's policies and what it does with it's money.

Personally, I find it ludicrous that anyone could believe that lifetime bureaucrats, un-firable employees and doctors chosen by those same bureaucrats could reliably maintain a health care system that would even adequately serve the citizens of this nation.

One question; Do you think that President Pollyanna and his Park Ridge Princess will ever come to terms with the reality the rest of us must live with?
