Dear Sir:

Where have you been sticking your head?
"There are no liberals in Wash. D.C." !!!
Well maybe there really aren't. Maybe they are all socialists now!

Do you read the newspapers, watch the news on TV? If you did at all, you should know by now that we did not have the atrocious numbers of babies having babies until they put "sex-ed" into the taxpayer schools. We did not have metal detectors in airports and taxpayer schools until prayer was removed and secular humanism moved in! Secular humanism says "we are all in the animal category, so do whatever feels good - there is no absolute right or wrong" - This is when the breakups of families began.

Back before all of this started there was a city in Michigan which had no public/taxpayer schools; - Only church schools. This city had no jail - there was no need.

The tax laws brought into effect by LIBERALS, sees no fault with tax laws which discriminate against married couples who have to pay more taxes than do two singles living together in wed and living in adultery. So do the social security laws discriminate between an elderly retired couple who are married, and those who are not married but living together! Tell me the LIBERAL lawmakers in Congress have not contributed to break up of families! Perhaps you are not a "family person". If not, you have missed the most precious part of life. A happy family is a gift from God.

Do not see how you could accuse Clinton of acting like a Republican. He is a socialist, and he would be very unhappy with your accusation. If Perot had not wishy-washed himself back into the running, Bush would be president today. I'm not that fond of Bush, but I felt a heck of a lot SAFER with him in the White House!

I believe you defended Lyndon Johnson while on C-Span. This was a man who railroaded himself to a seat in congress by counting votes of dead people, in his district, (which included the county of Williamson where my husband grew up and where I now live). Everyone knows he was a egotistical wheeler dealer, who pushed through Congress so much welfare and social programs, (which are still in place), that it started this great deficit we now have!

85 of them,

Wake up and smell the coffee. Pardon my frankness, but you seemed very nervous and unsure of yourself on the C-Span (11/29/93) program. Maybe you magazine in your whole life, and you do not recognize the biggest problems of our day and time? A lot of people don't, but a lot are waking up, thank God!

Yours for truth, decency, frugality,
strong (backbone of any nation) families,
