

5/8/94

Indiana, PA 15701

on quirkie
ed, never written,
ated + watched +.....

compelled to write today
because of your coverage of "Remembering D-Day; 50 years Later". Both my husband + I were entranced - we watched almost all your coverage over both days, + will never think of D-Day in the same way again.

We are both in our 50's, both were children during the war, both with parents who were directly affected by WW II. My father was a doctor in the service - luckily staying in the states + treating returning soldiers. My husband's parents were Polish Jewish refugees escaping Hitler's wrath.

Thank you for the rich depth you gave to the day.

And thank you for all your other programming. It is a joy to watch ceremonies from before they began to after they're over. And we also love Booknotes (+ on + on). Sincerely,

5/8/94

I am a C-Span junkie who has never called, never written, only watched + watched + watched + .....

I am compelled to write today because of your coverage of "Remembering D-Day; 50 years Later". Both my husband + I were entranced - we watched almost all your coverage over both days, + will never think of D-Day in the same way again.

We are both in our 50's, both were children during the war, both with parents who were directly affected by WW II. My father was a doctor in the service - luckily staying in the states + treating returning soldiers. My husband's parents were Polish Jewish refugees escaping Hitler's wrath.

Thank you for the rich depth you gave to the day.

And thank you for all your other programming. It is a joy to watch ceremonies from before they began to after they're over. And we also love Booknotes (+ on + on). Sincerely

Mallard Ducks

John James Audubon

AUDUBON'S AMERICAN NOTECARDS

