Dear Sirs:

I cannot begin to fathom why you cut away from Alan Keyes' speech to Christian Coalition Road to Victory conference for a taped speech of anybody. Even people who don't agree with him admit that in terms of political speeches, both in style and content, he far exceeds anyone else in the country. To hear him speaking on his home turf is something most political junkies would want.

It is also clear that he was far more likely to speak the complete mind of the rank and file of the Christian Coalition than any of the other speakers.

I am personally disappointed to see him skipped over once again. I hope that you do not continue to keep the public from seeing him speak.
