Dear C-Span,

Happy St. Patrick's Day!

It is time to write you again. It would be nice if letters recieved the type of attention, that phone calls + fax messages do. It puzzles me how anyone gets through to your phone lines and over & over, it is the same voices one hears.

I was excited that the C-Span bus was visiting the Navajo Nation, but you have not shown it (unless I somehow missed it). Will you compile highlights from your Bus tour and show them at a future date?

The bright side of the Whitewater/Rose/Madison mania is the flow of tourism dollars to the state of Arkansas! It is a truly beautiful, rugged place. Natural & without pretense. And as nature is, it is both placid + serene and unsettling + violent. The people are real people, even the transplants (considered ~~foreign~~ foreigners), you know, people from Illinois, Wisconsin, Texas, California, etc. They have their own way of doing things, which can be mystifying and even shocking to a gal brought up in Chicago, with its Al Capone legacy.

The current hype is extremely frustrating. If anyone had paid attention to the Democratic debate during the primary campaign, this nonsense would be over by now. Jerry Brown brought it to light + Hillary responded with the infamous

2) Cookie baking & Tea serving remarks, riling up Homemakers but cheered by working women. The Brown remarks dealt with hints of Collusion, not the rights of Women to pursue a career. Bill Clinton reacted with outrage to protect his spouse, but did not answer Jerry's questions.

Nonetheless the gossip, rudeness, insidious stuff going on now, is sickening. Especially on the day of Virginia Kelly's death and spreading vicious rumors all over the World.

I believe you could investigate almost every real estate developer & S+L & law firm & dig up some dirt. Likewise, every human being. "Judge not, one another". Pride & arrogance were Satan's sins & many seem to be caught up in that old lie.

We have a fine President! Let's get on with urgent issues. The only disagreements, I have had with the White House are 1. Waco 2. Nafta + 3. Cigarette taxes.

This Balanced Budget rhetoric is so silly. Only 80 Reps. voted for Solomon's Budget, so who are they kidding? And all the put down of Bureaucrats, don't they realize, they are condemning themselves?

What am I concerned about? The total lack of understanding of Micro-economics. Too much emphasis on Macro. This affects most elements in any policy matter, be it Health, Environment, Jobs, Welfare, etc.

3) Stereotyping gone awry. Static thoughts from static minds. Ugliness in its many forms, from speech to aesthetics, to crime, war, hunger, environments. The cure we need a huge dose of Harmony, empathy, open minds, & beauty.

Sincerely,

P.S. Too many people are slipping & can barely survive. Yes, the very people who helped make this a great nation. A Revolution in the making. My own life bears the scars ^{like that} of a bad soap-opera. I am the tip of the iceberg. Wisdom is in order.
