

[REDACTED]
April 25, 1984

C-Span
Suite 155
400 North Capitol Street
Washington, D.C. 20001
Dear C-Span:

Attached is my entry to, I watch C-Span Because.

Thanking you for good informative programs I am;

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
Decatur, Georgia 30035
[REDACTED]

I watch C-Span Because :

I wish to be informed of what my government is undertaking, to be informed one must have first hand knowledge, not information that has come through several hands and has been edited so as to fit the news space or the TV time slot.

I can form my own opinions, for on C-Span I hear exactly what is said, hear it in its entirety and not just what the news service wants me to hear. I hear the questions and I hear the answers and I hear the response. Later I can compare my opinion with that of the so called experts of the news media. (Sometimes this can be real interesting)

Being completely informed and not having to depend on someone else's opinion I can enter into meaningful discussions. I am assured that these discussions are following the exact and entire happenings of the event.

In the debates in the House I get to hear the pros and cons. This is absolutely necessary to be completely informed and to thoroughly understand any controversial question. By this I get to ask myself two important questions; 1 - How would I vote on this issue? 2 - Why would I vote that way?

Not only are the programs informative but interesting as well. I get to see and hear the leaders and policy makers of the nation, to listen to their opinions and to the reasoning behind those opinions. Not only on the floor of the House but also in the question and answer programs where their answers are their's and not someting made up by their staff.

To be the goodcitizen, that we all should be, I need to be knowledgable ofthe events that are takin place now and how these events will effect the future for me, the nation and the world. C-Span isa great help in supplying this information. C-Span gives me all ofthe necessary ingredients of a understandable news item : Who - Where - When - What - Why. Thank you C-Span.

✓

Decatur, Georgia 30035
