Dear Brian,

Appreciate the Labor Day broadcast of the American Profile on Ralph Reed, Christian Coalition, executive director. I'm not a member, but I do appreciate the fair treatment of these groups.

I also appreciated the coverage of their recent conference this last weekend; I heard most of it.

I would suggest these also:

NOW representatives are often represented. As an alternative to this, and I understand believing NOW did not represent mainstream America, Concerned Women for America was founded, by Beverly LaHaye. (NO, I am not a member). I understand they have MORE THAN TWICE the membership of NOW.

I would like to hear their views expressed in a fair manner from C-SPAN.

Also, I understand the 700 Club has a News Bureau; I would like to hear representatives from this group in call-in, other programs that interview prominent people. (No, I am not a member). Pat Robertson is a Yale graduate.

"Jack Van Impe Presents!" by Dr. and Mrs. Jack Van Impe. A weekly News Analysis Program with 700 stations I understand. [REDACTED] Troy, Mi 48007 [REDACTED] No, I do not contribute; I did know them years ago when he played a spectacular accordion and she sang beautiful solos, well-trained, simply preaching the gospel.

I realize religion is controversial; however, I have listened as much as possible almost the last year to news programs, including C-SPAN, and I believe it is here to stay - it was George Washington the founder and father of our country who said "It is impossible to rightly govern the world without God and the Bible".

Pat Robertson, Ralph Reed, Jerry Falwell, Dr. James Kennedy with their combined qualifications are a force to be reckoned with. No, I do not contribute to any of them with the exception of Moral Majority years ago and presently a small amount to Dr. Kennedy's group.

Sincerely,

[REDACTED]

KEEP UP THE GOOD WORK!

I believe Christian Science Monitor is represented or quoted often - or on occasion - would like to hear the above also -
