For Mr. Brian Lamb, President

Dear Mr. Lamb:

On a recent call-in program, about 5-10 days ago, a viewer wanted to know Gov. John D. Sununu's ethnic background.

Without thinking, you were about to respond and, I think, say Lebanese, but one of your guests said it before you.

An ethnic question at best is at least a 2 part question, a person may have parents of different ethnic backgrounds. Right! So I say, "Caution please."

According to the Nov. issue of the Reader's Digest article "John Sununu: The President's Right-Hand Man" by Rowland Evans & Robert Novak, Gov. Sununu was born in Havana, Cuba where his parents were on a business trip in 1939. His father was Lebanese-American and his mother was Greek.

Sincerely,
