

O-WJ

Friday Nov 17th

Mr. Lamb:

Thanks ^{to} the cable owners and operators for C-SPAN, C-SPAN2 and you, Brian Lamb. Today was a first for me: Jim Warren is usually unflappable but when he faced (202) 456-1111, his eyes gave him away - He was flapped! "No opinion" was his answer and to me it wasn't he had no opinion rather he found the pusha 1-2-3-4 too confusing to have an opinion - and I cannot blame him - I'm going to call & do "it" one more time after working out the polling choices.

Second Mr. Warren voiced surprised ^{that} a senior citizen (lady) from Louisiana was well informed in regards to what's "going on" in Washington, D.C. Thanks once again to C-span and C-span 2 "we are there" if we want to be and are lucky enough to have time and cable. Am I am one of the lucky ones hours & hours a day.

We thank you so very much.

By the way in my opinion you too twinkled and curled (eyes & lips) today.

How could you not? Kate (O'Beirne) and Ellen (Ratner) expressed opposite views so completely by body language, command of facts, presentation of substance, choice of words, not only my eyes twinkled but I also laughed aloud -

Sincerely yours,

Happy Thanksgiving

Just a note to let you know
The Woolly Worm says

"It might snow"

Stuff that turkey

Bake that ham

String some Beans

Candy some yams

Count your Blessings

Give thanks to the Lord

Amid all this

Think of us — and

Oh yes, don't eat 'til you "bust"

As Ever

[redacted] and me

age 77 * age 105 + 9½ months

74

and can you believe she did not (over) received a congratulation from the White House. She did at 100, 101, 102, 103 and when President Clinton's folks took over she got another 103

— and then March 5, 1995 when she was 105 - nothing. Maybe they really can't do math in the White House

Davidson, NC 28036
