Brian Lamb
Head Poobah & Chief Bottlewasher
the Uncertain C. Span

Dear Mr. Lamb,

seeing as you are my cultural hero & favorite TV journalist type person I have mixed feelings about chewing on you but the steam from my ears has fogged up my glasses.

I appreciate that the nature of C. Span demands an elastic programming attitude. But why in the hell am I forking at a pre-filmed D-Day show instead of Journalist Roundtable?

If there was some breaking story or something I wouldn't be happy, I wouldn't be pissed either. What, the LA Times, the San Diego Union Tribune & Total magazine all got your listings wrong? J.R. was on last night, I could have watched it then IF I KNEW YOU WERE GOING TO SCREW WITH THE PROGRAM!

I just write off TBS & TNT during basketball & baseball season because you never know what is on when. I stopped watching CNN when they put that idiotic score board don't miss it either. ⁱⁿ

Bat Journalist Roundtable is like taking the country's pulse every week! Screw balls on the left, Cranks on the right & some of the phone calls are wierd too!!

Please tell me there some logical reason you ruined my Saturday, & promise not to do again.

Sincerely yours

San Diego
