

28 April 94

C-SPAN
Washington D.C.

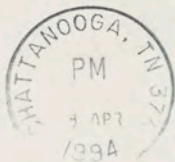

C-SPAN's coverage of Nixon's funeral was shamelessly melodramatic and commercialized! Superimposing the flag over a cloudy sky during solemn musical selections was for dramatic effect. Especially noticeable was the zooming in, time after time, on Julie Eisenhower's youngest daughter, complete with flowers in her hands! Pure theatre - for viewer effect!

The repeated close-ups of Nixon's younger brother, complete with the pain and grief showing on his face, seemed to be a favorite of C-SPAN cameras! Again and again - ad nauseam!

I hate to think that part of my cable payment goes to support such a travesty - I do not commend your coverage. Shame, Shame!
