To Whom it may concern:

I went to church on Sun, came home and turned C-Span on and was I ever surprised. A station which up till now I considered A okay. What I saw and heard on your coverage of the gay and lesbian march in Washington was rather appalling and upsetting when people talk about our Presidents wife the way one person did and you covered this I just think this was poor televising I thought maybe this

It was just a fluke so I switched over to something else but later tried C-span again. All day long. This was not my idea of watching television and if you continue this kind of reporting here's one person who will no longer watch your station.
