I TRIED not to write you - but frustration got the better of me.

W's "junkies" really looks forward to your "Newspaper Roundtable" to sit on days & get valid information. In the West, we are up at 4 AM to catch the news review.

Lately, a pattern has emerged that breaks that consistency. During the conventions, the "Volunteer Summit" & now the Toquerille series the focus of a variety of news is gone. Every article must dwell on the special event ad nauseum. Tedious rote in & we are into overkill.

Please keep the first hour of Washington Journal the same. Then you can ramp up any other subject you want. Horribly,
