

O.WJ

Ogdensburg, NY 13669

Nov. 15, 1995

C-SPAN Networks

400 N. Capital St., N.E. #650

Washington, D.C. 20001

Dear C-SPAN,

This letter is to record my astonishment at Connie on this morning's show. After reading a fax, she said it was from someone from the UWSA, and she said she ~~didn't~~ ^{doesn't} know what that is.

I think perhaps she was just having an early morning mental block. We all have so many initials to remember it is not surprising we occasionally forget.

United We Stand America, however, is a major part of the political scene today. Mr. Perot may have lost some of his appeal, but the organization is still a part of politics today, and even though many wish it would just go away, such is not the case.

Perhaps hosting C-SPAN morning shows, or any other shows, ought to require a broad knowledge of our nation's current events.

Sincerely,

an X-UWSA
member.