Enjoy C-SPAN immensely!

Please be careful regarding scientific issues and the credentials of guests who purport to be scientists.

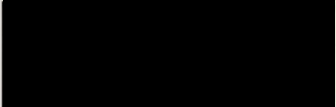

Backnotes - Dixie Lee Ray - primarily a politician. The high point of the interview was Ms. Ray's assertion that the current concerns over fat/cholesterol is "overblown"!?

While she did make some legitimate points, she's hardly a research scientist or even an expert in any of the issues discussed.

(over)

You have many fine segments on C-SPAN devoted to Geopolitics, history, etc. Please consider a regular time slot for science/technology with credentialed guests from various ~~a~~ fields of science + technology. The environment and population will be of increasing concern to more and more people - we need informative debates on these issues by scientists and engineers rather than ^{or along with} economists and politicians.

Keep up the good work!
