Dear C-SPAN,

As one who would be an almost constant C-SPAN watcher, I have violently protested the practice of our local cable company, Paragon, of preempting almost all of your coverage for local trivia. I've written letters to editor of local paper and to John Neal, president of Paragon, to no avail.

What can you tell me, please, if there's anything to be done to change this? Mr. Neal says that our C-SPAN channel is also "public access", thereby condoning abruptly cutting in to something very interesting on your channel to bring us junk that those of us interested in national affairs don't care about. Why can't C-SPAN sustain a channel all its own?

Also, can you please send to me a programming schedule for a normal week so I can fume about what I'm missing.

Sincerely,
