Dear Brian:

How could you? How could you?
How could you?

That's three times because that's how often I ran into the awful sales pitch of Perot.

You weren't tough enough on him.
At least in the past I endured. I had to turn it off after the charts. You could take lessons from Judy Woodruff in her interview of him. She did the best job yet of making him look like
what he is - a demagogue.

If you don't have opposing views,
I will be very disappointed. You know his followers had those phone lines tied up and they sounded so ignorant to me.

NAFTA is a remedy we have to take.
If you would get proponents on there who could really explain it: Keiser, Panetta, Dole even Clinton or Gore. We have more businesses leaving as it is and we have no control over the environment, treatment of workers, quality

or anything else.

When you walked into his office and commented on the beautiful pictures and he turned to the one of Washington, my stomach turned. Wrapping himself in the flag and bragging of all he did for veterans is easy when you have the money.

Please, please don't do this again. I am a fan and have never found fault before.

Sincerely

EAU CLAIRE, WI.
