Dear C-Span,

Thanks for all your programming. I've learned tons about the House & how it operates. I'm not happy with what I've learned about how a few people decide everything for me and others aren't even given a chance to speak. Thanks for covering "Special Orders".

I have a question though. This week when I was watching a vote in the House, I noticed something that hadn't caught my eye previously. Who is responsible for the graphic that shows the totals? Is that put on by C-SPAN or The House? The graphic reads ~~DEMOCRATIC~~, REPUBLICAN & INDEPENDENT. Shouldn't that be DEMOCRAT, REP. & IND.? Not DEMOCRATIC. They are no more democratic than the Republicans or the Independent (Democrat). It might be misleading to a newcomer to our country. Would like to hear from you on this.

Next time you're doing talk-radio-people, try to get Michael Leagan. I'm a recent listener to his show. I enjoy the radio people, & the journalist roundtable & 99% of everything else. (I don't even agree with myself 100% of the time.)

Keep up the good work.

How can I get a C-SPAN mag to add to my collection?

Sincerely
