

Jan 20, 19

Dear Brian Lamb and friends,
What a joy your C-Span
is! No propaganda rammed down
your throat, as on every other news
program on TV.

You take your time and let us
see all we'd arrange to see if we had
the say so.

Thus I saw the primary in New Hampshire — all of it — without propaganda — or propaganda given in equal amounts ~~from~~ from every position — i. e. balanced news, and fairness to all.

"^{magazine} I've dropped "National Review"
Time" All I depend on is C-span.

The day today couldn't have been nicer to watch (and I voted for Bush
— because of a guttural, mostly)

Your coverage let me get to see

002594 JAN 26 93

669 JAN 26 93
Iris

By Vincent Van Gogh
Courtesy of Artothek

Printed Exclusively For
Marcel Schurman Company, Inc., © 1990
Fairfield, California

75-15/2189/1

all the candidates and their (2.)
wives + vice presidents as human beings so that I saw that all three candidates and their families were decent people and that each of the 3 candidates
would be trustworthy + fine.

Gone from your reporting was
the cynicism of the other news
broadcasters.

No assumptions from you that your audience thinks only one way - their way (or your way)

I defy anyone to guess your political bent! (all I'm sure of
is that you do like Chuck Berry!
And so do I, even though I'll be 70 next June.)

I thank God for C-span! I hope

You keep your fairness to all policy and your balance of all
voices and your objective attitude toward all.

You make the others look like
the closed-minded propaganda
machines that they are!

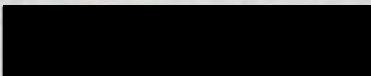

Even though they never admit
it.

Keep up the outstandingly
excellent work

(I like your classical music
also. How refreshing!)

I especially enjoyed your visit
to Oxford. (And today the photography was A+!)

God bless Bill Clinton and all
he depends on. Thank you, Brain Love.
sincerely,

Ms [redacted]
[redacted]

Kansas City MO 64113-1944

C-span

400 M. Capitol St. NW

Wash D. C.

20001