Dear Sir:

I enjoy many things about C-Span, but especially the lovely music that plays whenever a vote is being taken. Would it be possible to flash on the screen, once or twice during a long session, the title and composer of the number being played? Your music is the best that can be heard on either radio or TV.

When Congress is in session, and the members will not come to order, could you have your camera man pan the most talkative members, so that we can see just who is being so rude?

I don't see how some members can vote intelligently when they obviously don't stop talking long enough to hear the debates. It must be very discouraging to the Speaker, or the Speaker pro tem, to gavel for order again and again and again, and all without the desired quiet.

I enjoy the call-in programs, though I have not called in myself yet. I think they are handled very well.

Sincerely yours,
