Re: Future Program & Recent Program

I am a regular watcher and feel sure that in the next couple weeks we will see a program or some concentration on the Promise Keeper Meeting in Washington, D.C. on October 4th. It is my hope that there will be some use of the truth in describing this movement.

Since I am 75 years and a woman, you can be certain that I have no axe to grind. However, I can verify that we have a large group of these members in our church and they have the complete support of their wives who say they are better husbands and fathers since joining the group. Their goal is for men to meet one on one and then to join together to stop the moral decay of our nation. Their opposition has zeroed in on a very minute part of their beliefs which is to follow the Bible and take their role as head of the household, leading their wives and children with love and prayers. None that I know has any particular political agenda....but their agenda is to pick up the cross and be men of God, trying to regain the strong Christian affiliation which was demonstrated by our forefathers. They believe the youth of our nation has to have role models and they do not want these to be homosexuals and drug users.

Over the weekend, one of your guests was Peter Gomes, a homosexual preacher. You questioned him on his religion and the Bible. I could not tell if you have some religious background and were just asking questions. Mr. Gomes said there are many interpretations of the Bible. These are not Christian interpretations because a Christian is one who believes the King James original version. These other religions who study from their revised versions are cults, i.e., Mormonism, John Smith and the Book of Mormons. Yet the Mormons advertise on TV that they are Christians and even give away copies of the Bible. True Christians believe that we do not get to Heaven without confessing our sins to Jesus Christ, believing in the Trinity (the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit), and resolving to lead clean lives. The Bible speaks of the narrow road and only a few are allowed to enter.

Referring back to your guest, homosexuality was prevalent at the time Noah was asked to build the Ark because God could not stand the moral decay and he wiped out the whole world except the ones who entered the Ark with Noah. We feel that God has again had just about all he will take and we must turn the world around. The Bible says the penalty for homosexuality is death to both parties. This probably means these people will not be taken to Heaven at the end of the days, but will go to Hell (James 1:12-13, Leviticus 18:1-29, 20:13).

Non Christians find it difficult to study the Bible because God discloses more and more as we grow in faith and mature as Christians. I agree with Mr. Gomes that Billy Graham is very knowledgeable on the Bible and is a true Christian. He is also concerned with the state of our nation, and he does not approve of homosexuality. He preaches that Satan rules the world according to the Bible. God can stop things from happening and, sometimes, does but since the time of Adam and Eve man has had the choice between right and wrong. Until the end of the world, there will be pain, sorrow and suffering because of this.

It is our sincere prayer that the Promise Keepers who have worked for months raising funds (car washes, bake sales, services for sale, etc) will be heard amidst a spiritual awakening which will stop the darkness which is spreading across our nation.

Thank you for your programs.
