Dear Mr. Lamb:

How many times have I tried to call you? Let me count the times -- or the ways! I tried to call when during your Visit to Japan series because I was anxious to suggest that you include in your "visiting around" at least one of the prominent Catholic Universities -- particularly the University of the Sacred Heart which the Empress Michiko attended. and perhaps interview some prominent Catholics in a country where they represent less than 2% of the population but have produced many of the most prominent Japanese.

And then there was the time in Germany when everything was a bit grim I was struck by the astonishing cleanliness of the Leipzig Railway station and thought it needed comment.

I wanted to congratulate you on the wonderful sessions you held with many young people in New Hampshire they were truly inspired!

During your all day coverage of the inauguration I wanted to ask if every so often during that coverage did your mind wander back to that charming Inn in New Hampshire or did it seem so long ago as to be almost other worldly?

And then there was yesterday when Representative Kasich showed himself to be the first fresh breath of air in the long list of dreary Republicans .

Well there were other times and other burning issues but I did think you would be amused by the attached copy of the letter I wrote to Rep. Kasich congratulating and encouraging him after seeing him on C-Span do take a moment. and read it. Incidentally how do you stand some of those carping, witless women who call and say such idiotic things. You and your co-workers are so invariably kind, caring and pleasant they seem almost surreal.

Congratulations and do keep C-Span just the way it is - in a world where little goes well C Span is Perfect! I am particularly devoted to your Book/Author sessions/ Thanks

Sincerely, [REDACTED]

Well, not 100% perfect -

Dear Representative Kasich:

I never thought in my 75 years that I would ever salute a Republican as "Dear" but I am writing to tell you that I saw you on C-SPAN yesterday and the miracle happened a bright, intelligent, pleasant Republican with a positively brilliant idea!

go after that thought you had of really finding out what the government does >> it would be marvelous to discover just what all of those bureaucratic mingy little empire builders have wrought over the years and kick their behinds OUT by restructuring the whole thing. and really making the government work for the first time in a long time -- perhaps, EVER!

You may never get another chance to do it - in fact there may never again be such a chance -- the marvel of a bright, young, President with the vision and drive to change and a bright, young Republican willing to shake up the status quo co-existing is absolutely mind boggling.

Do you have the political courage and the stamina to follow through? You know it might do either of two things it blow you right out of the arena back home OR it might make you the greatest thing since the second coming.

For your information - the other Republicans (and some Democrats) haven't figured out the reason why Clinton won or the why of the Perot phenomenon BUT I'll tell you why -- looking at the sour faces and listening to the stuck-in-the-40's words of people like Simpson, Specter, Hatch, Hyde, Gramm, GINGRICH, (My God) Dole, Helms, Lugar, and, God Help Us All Strom Thurmond of the Alzheimer and ugly Rug Party, then there is that silver-tongued jewel D'Amato, and in your arena - Robert Walker who never passes up an opportunity to spread venom on the floor of the House, he and McCollum vie for the viper spot I guess, I have to say I do miss Conte - he had such wonderful stories and was such a charming old rascal but the aforelisted pack are so sour, so bound to be against everything that they -- combined with that silver tongued orator of the Convention Patrick Buchanan and his female counterpart the less than charming Marilyn Quayle, THOSE ARE THE ONES THAT LOST YOU GUYS THE WHITE HOUSE BELIEVE ME

clinton

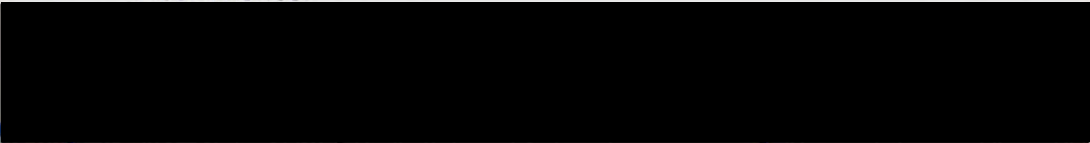

AND, far more importantly, they are the ones who will fight and obstruct and perhaps make the american people lose the one chance that has been offered us in many years to dig our way out the morass by obstructing Clinton with his vision and you with the project I hope you will never give up or lose sight of.

I am old, I live on social security and a prayer. Many wonder why I bought this computer or went into hock to get a FAX but instead of buying a car, drinking booze or sitting around waiting to die I watch C-Span I am a news junkie, I read the NY Times and I pray for young men like yourself to come to the fore. I try to get on the phone to C-Span but that being hopeless I use this means of communication to encourage those who, like yourself, have something to say and do and express my dismay to some of those whom I listed in the foregoing Not that I think they care or even listen. This isn't new. I drove the nuns crazy in school questioning, wondering and expressing myself in ways they thought quite inappropriate but when I got to College the Jebbies highly approved I guess that made me even wonder more when I listened to Buchanan and he kept saying such terrible things about those "others that are not like us" I kept wondering what he heard from the nuns and the Jesuits that I had never heard that God likes those and them and that and not this one or those others...see what I mean - How is it that you are a Republican? I just cannot fathom. But I wish you well and will follow what you do and hound you if you ever give up your vision thing.

One more job - find out who on earth is pushing that Bust Of Agnew! What an insult that is! Can it not be stopped?

Thank you for your vision, thank you for your idea and keep on cooperating across the aisle -- it is the right thing to do if we are ever to get it all together.

Best Wishes.
