I recently listened to a lecture on C-SPAN by John Stockwell, former operations director, CIA. I was very disappointed. I consider myself a liberal, and this is the kind a' guy that gives "liberal" a dirty name. He is such a sloppy man with figures, facts, train of thought & speech. To begin with, he said the U.S. gov't. spends 3 (or 4) billion dollars per day on defense; bullshit; that's over one trillion dollars per year! He also said our gov't. (U.S. gov't.) spends $\frac{1}{3}$ of its budget on defense; he went on to say that's 53 cents out of every tax dollar; bullshit; that's 33 cents out of every tax dollar. Sloppy! (And this was a former CIA man!??)... He refers to so much "testosterone poisoning," next he'll be saying the body is a poison unto its self... And he says he's given this lecture 600 times, with so much slop & mistakes?? Really... At 2,500⁰⁰ per lecture (assuming he told the truth once) ~~the~~ and 600 lectures, it's easy to see what motivates this "kook"... He looks, acts & talks (sounds) like he's taken drugs... I hope you can send my message to him. He's giving "liberal-minded" people a bad name; couse maybe that's ^(his) purpose!!
