End Freedom For Religion or Lose Your Own

The Newsweek article "Should We Fear Islam?" should have been titled, "When Do We End The Superstition Called Religion, And How?" The self-evidently unconstitutional sex and drug laws, concocted by false-religious superstitionists to keep themselves in the business of spreading pleasure-hatred no matter what the Constitution says, the superstitionist-colluding school campaigns against pleasure, the murder of a Congressman and mass suicide by nitwits enslaved by The Reverend Jim Jones, the shootout with the Branch Davidians, and the World Trade Center bombing only add to centuries of other evidence of superstitionist perniciousness to provide perfect proof that the superstition called religion must come to an end.

I'm not attacking freedom-life-pleasure-and-love true spiritualism like the islam sect, The Bahai World Faith, or communion-with-higher-realms spiritualism such as the United Spiritualist Church, one of whose ministers provided this hoper with faith in the higher realms by developing what I consider fact-verifiable statements of my personal situation derived from that contact with those realms, or love-and-wisdom based spiritualism, such as islams' Jains, and christianitys' Rosicrucians, or Korean Animism, based on the Vedic understanding that "I am that, you are that, and all this is that.", and therefore, that every piece of the world must be treated as a piece of God, because it literally is.

Nor am I attacking individual, self-realizing meditation, such as Transcendental Meditation, which works by directly synchronizing the upper levels of the psyche with those lower levels closest to God, and then all with God itself, but false religion, which generally starts out as a celebration of the lives of those who have achieved a state of divinity, without showing followers how to achieve a state of divinity, and then collapses into antipleasure superstition to trick the people into thinking that if their religion doesn't work, it must be their fault for not hating pleasure.

Not that Transcendental Meditation recommends drugs; just the opposite. A person using nonprescription drugs must abstain for fourteen days before beginning TM, to clarify the experience of divine, transcendental consciousness. But once taught, the choice is up to the individual. You go through life with Transcendental Meditation making you your own guide, in synchronization with God, not being misguided by antipleasure mind-vampires into mistaking hatred of pleasure for divinity.

Sheikh Abdel Raman, the superstitionist mind-vampire behind so many atrocities, has said, " Force is used with tourists. Tourism is educational, to see the monuments and historical places. Tourists must respect the traditions of islam when they visit muslim countries. Tourism is not alcohol, nightclubs, and fornicating. " A muslim respondent to the Newsweek article, using the superstitionist trick of diametricism, creating confusion by saying opposite things at the same time, wrote " Islam is a peaceful religion. Its adherents are absolutely no threat to anyone unless it is threatened. " Then, " Western tolerance of fornication, prostitution, and drugs is abhorrent to islam; the West must learn to coexist with us. "

Wrong. It is not Western tolerance of freedom; it is Western demanding of freedom. Using the word tolerance is another superstitionist trick to suggest superstitionists have a right to not tolerate freedom. And superstition does not have a right to be a threat to anyone, including those who are a threat to it. Apparently the only people stupid enough to fall into the mind-trap of islam are, by nature of that stupidity, also too stupid to realize that murdering people for calling their false religion a false religion only proves that it is a false religion. And the West must not learn to coexist with that which comes to the West. That which comes to the West must learn to coexist with the West, or cease to exist.

Tourism is not to see monuments and historical places. Tourism is most specifically for alcohol, drugs, nightclubs, and fornicating. Mind-vampires only say otherwise so they can divert the money normal people spend on these things to the superstitionists, wrecking economies everywhere; our Great Depression came out of the sex and drug laws preventing a pleasure economy from taking up the slack when the industrial economy went bad. The beatings on the streets of women who refuse to submit to the social disease called islam proves that islam considers to be a threat to islam anyone who does not submit to islam. And the principle of seperation of church and state declares that there must not be such a thing as a muslim country. Therefore, not only must tourists not respect the mind-vampiristic, pleasure-hating, false-religious traditions of islam, but should do their best to destroy such traditions. And freedom is not a Western value, and antifreedom an Eastern value; freedom is a universal human value, and antifreedom an antiuniversal antihuman antivalue, to be destroyed.

Mark my words. Anyone turning away from this challenge, considering religion so ridiculous that it will die by itself, will look back on that decision as the worst mistake of their lives. The sex and drug laws must be repealed, the antipleasure campaigns taken out of the schools, the parochial superstition schools shut down, superstition-spewing media taken off the air and out of circulation, and the property of superstitionists forfeited to pay for a vast public-school civics program to re-establish the understanding that freedom means freedom in pleasure, or it means nothing at all. We can no longer be so liberal as to have a live and let live attitude toward superstitionists who themselves have no such attitude. The superstition called religion must be destroyed. There is one freedom so dangerous to freedom itself that it can no longer be tolerated; and that is the freedom to be against freedom.
