Certainly President Roosevelt organized the Federal Gov. to serve the American people. The economy had already hit bottom there was widespread hunger, no work and the southwest drought brought dust storms devastating to many states.

My father, an Oklahoma farmer idolized FDR, lived for his radio addresses.

In 1937 I was teaching school and my County endorsed Social Security, I signed up. My husband was a Postal Clerk, as an employee of the Federal Gov't. was not allowed to vote. After retirement he worked in a filling station to get his qualifications for Social Security.
