

December 3, 1993

C-SPAN

400 North Capitol N.W. #650
Street

Washington, D.C. 20001

Gentlemen:

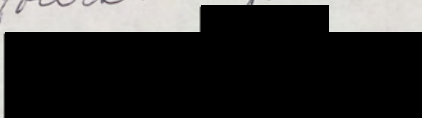

I watched the round table discussion on C-SPAN this morning where you had three journalists from the Washington Post.

This evening I tuned into C-SPAN again, and there is another journalist from the Washington Post, Michael Ischoff, talking about the F.B.I. investigation of NASA.

I'm sure you are aware that there is another newspaper in your city, the Washington Times.

Instead of having an over-abundance of journalists from the liberal Washington Post, couldn't you balance your programs with journalists from the conservative Washington Times 2. We are led to believe your coverage is non-partial, but you fail to operate that way.

Yours truly,

[REDACTED]
Lansing, Mi. 48910

C. SPAN
400 North Capitol Street N.W. #650
Washington, D.C. 20001