all the years a believing C-Span unbiased, I just witness the most despicable process.

This man called and after more than five minutes of a campaign speech by Ron Brown, this caller was bounced off after one second, probably because he was a Republican.

I have been trying to get through to C-Span for years without success, and it cost people money to call. I know some people do go on and on, but this wasn't so in alone case. Brown gave no thought to all the people who were waiting to call. Just talk and talk. Why was he not interrupted so a caller could talk?

Guess you have finally joined the rest of the media and lost me. It hurts, because I really believed I finally found a station
I could listen to, and here for years."
