Subject: ^{Real} Representation in Congress and in State Governments based on Economics and Education. ~~People~~ Could this be one of your C-SPAN programs.

Dear Sir:

I speak with many people during the course of the day as a Blue Collar working person due to the nature of my work.

People who make less than $50,000
a year do not feel represented in government. Most people ^{in this category} if given an opportunity by the political parties to vote for someone in their economic class would vote for that person rather than a wealthy attorney or wealthy businessman.

The U.S. needs a Labor Party or a N.P.P.
like the Province of Ontario in Canada.

I personally will not vote for an attorney (They have too much representation in legislative bodies or a very wealthy person, again I feel already are well represented as a result I do not have many people I can vote for because the major parties seem to always run these kinds of candidates.

Incumbents: There is some talk that we should limit ~~a~~ political office holders in terms of years in office. I personally agree but would go further and suggest we have representation based on population of the different economic classes of people in the U.S.

*I hope you would have a C-SPAN program on these above issues I am discussing.

I do not feel an attorney or a wealthy businessman can govern better than many intelligent people I meet. Sadly our laws are skewed to their benefit. I enjoy C-SPAN programming but the wealthy incumbents ^{in public office} need to go home no matter how good they think they are.

Thank you, and God Bless.
