Dear Mr. Lamb,

Briefly, I would like to give a little of my background before proceeding with my comments.

I am a retired military person (enlisted) who served as an Air Traffic Controller. I retired in 1970 and in 1988, came to Washinton, D.C. where I remained until 1991. Coincidentally, I worked at 400 N Capitol for a few months as a Security Guard and had a couple of brief conversations with you and Susan Swain.

A few months back, C-Span did a short segment with Mr John F. McManus, current head of The John Birch Society. Mr McManus was discussing the Council On Foreign Relations and The Trilateral Commission.

Although the CFR and TC memberships are made up of some of the most prominent people in the United States, the average person has never heard of them. They are not secret organizations per se, but they do avoid publicity.

I first became aware of the Trilateral Comm. in 1977, when a magazine did an expose type article pertaining to Jimmy Carter, David Rockefeller, (TC Founder), and Zbigniew Brzezinski pertaining to Carters quest for the Presidency.

Inasmuch^{as} their memberships consist of U.S. Senators, a Supreme Court member, a Supreme Court nominee (Ginsburg), media elite, (Brokaw, Brinkley, Rather, Sawyer, and Will to name a few), Presidents, Carter, Bush, (He Resigned), and Clinton, Cabinet members Christopher, Cisneros, and Shalala, I think that these organizations should be given more publicity. Three publications that I am aware of state that long range goals of CFR and TC is one world government. One of the vehicles being used to attain this goal is the U.N.. Interesting isn't it?

Sincerely,

Petal, MS 39465
