Governor Mario Cuomo
State House
Albany, New York

Nov. 8, 1991

Sir,

A caller (to CSPAN) asked you about your funding education in Israel. As I recall, you asked the caller what her objection might be, in a somewhat haughty and imperious manner, I might add.

As a viewer, and member of this worldwide mass humanity, I have a couple of objections. Since you suffer a lack of limitless funds (I believe you admitted you are not spending every nickel you would like on New York education) to me, it is unconscionable to divert funds to Israel, which is outside of your responsibility. As to my second objection, under the aegis of your assumption of responsibility to finance education worldwide, from Timbucktoo to Fernando Poo, did you send an equal stipend to the Palestinians? You didn't mention any such diversion of funds.

James Randi (being sued by, I believe, Jewish psychic pretender Uri Geller) describes in his book, THE MASK OF NOSTRADAMUS, how a number of covert Jews were forced to "wear Christian clothing" as it were. Now Mario, I don't give a hoot what spook society a yahoo belongs to--as long as he, she, or it doesn't harm nonmembers. However, that is not always the case.

Sincerely,

[REDACTED]
