

[REDACTED]
Fayetteville, AR. 72703

July 30, 1990

2515-90

Mr. Bryan Lamb

C-span

400 N. Capital St. N.W.

Washington, DC 20001

AUG 10 REC'D

AUG 20 ANS'D

Dear Sir,

I enjoy C-span very much and watch whenever I can.

Seems like you have guests and those who call in with questions on the federal deficit - and sometimes suggestions on how to reduce it.

My question is: Why don't you or any of your guests mention using foreign aid money to reduce the deficit?
Why don't we, although we have a debt crisis, cut drastically all foreign aid?

Why do we owe Millions of dollars to foreign Countries when we need it so badly here?

Now I see those in the media and Congress advocating monetary help to Russia, all all the dumb things I've ever heard. This is the worst. I say to hell with them. They have spied on the U.S.A., stolen our methods and still we allow it and now want to give them money.

The same for South Africa - who is the same as it was hundreds of years ago. Their people don't change and won't.

Why don't you investigate foreign aid dollars and see how much we waste and how much it would lower our National debt?

I have written Congressman Hammerschmidt suggesting the same.

I suggested to him that the Congress is laden with those who are not fiscally knowledgeable and if they were in private business they would go broke or if they worked for a company in an important position most would be fired. It seems all of them including the President can't do anything without raising taxes. Still they continue to waste money in the most frivolous manner.

Yours Respectfully,
