Dear C-Span:

Just wanted to drop you a note to let you know how much we have <sup>enjoyed</sup> the "American Presidents Portraits" series.

We've been able to watch several of the programs and find them very educational, thought provoking and very well done.

The questions we have are as follows: ① Since we have not been able to watch all the programs, will there be any kind of video series available for purchase of the entire

Presidential programs? +
(2) Will there be, a say companion book produced that chronicles the highlights of the series that one could purchase so they can relive most of the heart of the programs; and (3) Could C-span put a list out a bibliography of the authors presented so, a person could purchase the books on the Presidents that <sup>they</sup> are interested in.

Thanks again for a very well done series. C-span is absolute top - quality television.
