Dear Mr. Lamb,

I am pleased to write you this letter and compliment you and your staff on the wonderful "Mexican Presidents Series". The program is so enlightening and puts our history and former leaders in a proper perspective, especially when considering the Civil War and the slavery situation. I think the historians that join you each week are so knowledgeable in their particular areas. The questions from viewers add a great deal to the subject and I think having some descendants of the presidents are an additional plus. Please try to include descendants in the upcoming programs. I am a big fan of "Book Notes" and (Spana's) week end book discussions.

Thank you —

I can't wait to see how you handle Mr Clinton. Don't pull any punches —
