Gentlemen:

Congratulations on your new graphics at the bottom of the screen. Looks great!

As a long-time C-SPAN watcher, I do have a suggestion that you might consider.

Notwithstanding your other programming, I think most people identify C-SPAN with the House floor proceedings and C-SPAN 2 with the Senate floor proceedings. Could you have a graphic box on the screen that shows - at all times - when each body will reconvene? For instance, and especially away from Washington, if the Senate is taking a week's recess, watchers cannot tell if they are gone for a day or for a month. Just a suggestion.
