Dear Sirs,

I just love C-Span. And I would like to suggest to Brian Lamb that he should interview Martin Gross, the author of The Government racket-Washington waste A-Z. I am in the process of reading it now, and I honestly can't believe the magnitude of waste and inefficiency that exist in our system. I also think that this would be a very interesting change from just interviewing our congressmen and senators. Having this guy on your show "just might" send a wake up call to our representatives that the people are starting to wake up to their lack of leadership and responsibility to us. Please keep this idea in mind.

Sincerely,

White Lake MI 48386
