

0025:11 APR 12 1993

C-SPAN
Attn: Brian Lamb

Dear Sir:

Suggest: Have more Middle Class People on your programs (where the majority of people are in income.) ^{$37,500} middle income

You always have people with Income from the top 20%
of income which is wrong.

People's political and economic views are "steered" by the income and prospects for income they have.

A Poor person does not view economics as an Upper Middle Income person does necessarily.
as you usually have on C-SPAN

80% of the People of the U.S. do not get on your programs based on income.

The 80% think with their pocketbooks so the so-called "Opinion Leaders" you have on your C-SPAN programs are taken with a "Grain of Salt."

* So Have a Balanced view presented of Economic and Political View +

The Workers views are not presented very well if at all.

* Look at the German Government in Particular, and its educational system -

I don't expect any change as you are captured by the wealthy but at least you will know we are aware of your biases.

C-SPAN

Attn: Brian Lamb

650

400 N. Capital St.

Washington DC 20001

