I Watch C-Span Because

I watch C-Span because it opens a window on a whole new world for me. No longer do I have to accept the bits and pieces that the other media wishes to reveal to me regarding the actions of the House of Representatives, or Congressional Committees. I can watch, and listen, and form my own opinions.

I have been able to see the debates of the Democratic candidates, which were not shown on the other TV stations.

In addition, when the other stations conduct interviews, the interviews are brief and well rehearsed. C-Span has interviews that last long enough that you feel that you have gained an impression of the real person. This is helped by the questions of the "callers in."

I watch C-Span because it widens my horizons.
