Dear Mr. Lamb:

You may add my wife's and my name to your long list of admirers, for we send accolades to you and your staff for your effective contributions in so many areas of our culture. Our nation is in dire need of patriotic inspiration and at times "purification".

We are regular viewers of your program, "Booknotes". As a result of these interviews we often make our way to our local bookstore where we buy a copy of book by authors you have presented in such an interesting manner. This week we purchased Andrew Carroll's book, Letters of a Nation, and your very own Booknotes. We look forward to the second volume of your book.

One of your most enjoyable programs over C-Span was "A Tour of the White House". Please commend Susan Swain for the superior role she portrayed in this presentation. Could you do a similar tour of our Federal Parks?

O.W.H. TOUR

Thank you again for your vision.
You have given much joy to two elderly educators who have for numerous years made concerted efforts to inspire our students in both the public schools and colleges of our great country.
Keep up the good work, Brian!

Gratefully
